APPENDIX A

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS

Each retail store was assigned a kind-of-business classification for purposes of preparing summary totals by kinds of business. In general, the kind-of-business classification assigned was based on the analysis which each store reported of its total sales by lines of merchandise. This permitted classification of the report for the entire store into a single kind-of-business category based on the proportion of total sales accounted for by each of the individual lines reported. For some kinds of business, however, such as drug stores, department stores, and variety stores, usual trade designation, rather than the predominant merchandise lines, determine classification.

It should be observed that kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with merchandise-line classifications. Food stores, for instance, sell more than food, and food also is sold in other kinds of stores, including department and variety stores. Likewise, apparel, furniture, and drugs are sold in many stores not classified as apparel, furniture, or drug stores.

The kind-of-business classification of each warehouse, administrative office, and auxiliary unit is based on the classification of the stores in the parent organization which it services or of which it is an auxiliary.

The kinds of business defined below are arranged by groups, with special attention given to principal kinds of business within each group. Significant changes in definition since the 1939 Census of Business are noted.

Food Group

The Food Group includes retail establishments primarily engaged in selling food for home preparation and consumption. Establishments primarily engaged in selling prepared food and drinks for consumption on the premises, such as eating and drinking places, are included in classifications under those names, and stores primarily engaged in selling packaged beers and liquors are classified separately as "Liquor stores."

Grocery stores (with or without fresh meat)

These stores are primarily engaged in selling at retail a wide variety of canned or frozen foods, such as vegetables, fruits, and soups, in addition to dry groceries, either packaged or in bulk, such as tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits, spices, sugar, flour, and crackers, and other processed food and nonedible grocery items. Smoked and prepared meats, and fresh fish and poultry, fresh vegetables and fruits are also often sold. These stores are classified as "Grocery stores, with fresh meat" or "Grocery stores, without fresh meat" according to whether they do or do not handle fresh meats (frozen or unfrozen).

Meat markets

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh meats. They also may sell cured meats, poultry, fish, dairy products, eggs, and other commodities. These stores may butcher animals on their own account, or they may buy from others.

Fish (sea food) markets

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh or cured fish, oysters, shellfish, and other sea foods.

Fruit stores, vegetable markets

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling fresh fruits and fresh vegetables. They are frequently found in public or municipal markets or are operated as roadside stands. Not included are stands operated by farmers selling only their own produce.

Candy, nut, confectionery stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling candy, nuts, sweetmeats, and other confections. Operation of a soda fountain or lunch counter is common. Establishments selling merchandise through coin-operated vending machines are included here if their principal line of merchandise is candy, nuts, or other confections.

Dairy products stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling such dairy products as milk, cream, butter, cheese, ice cream, and related products to over-the-counter customers. This classification is differentiated from milk dealers in method of distribution and not by kind of commodity. Establishments selling these products for immediate or on-premise consumption are classified as "Lunch counters, refreshment stands."

Milk dealers

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling milk and cream by daily delivery to the home. They may also sell other dairy products, such as butter, cheese, and eggs, and engage in pasteurizing operations incidental to the distribution of fluid milk. Establishments primarily engaged in the retail route distribution of fluid milk or cream and which also manufacture dairy products are included in this industry. Dealers who sell primarily to retailers or to hotels and restaurants are considered wholesalers.

Bakery products stores

These are single-unit retail establishments primarily engaged in selling bakery products, such as bread, cakes, or pies, whether or not the products are produced on the premises. In addition, bakery products stores of multiunit bakeries with no baking on the premises are included. Bakery products stores are divided into two categories, "Bakery products stores without baking on the premises," and "Bakery products stores with baking on the premises."

Units of multiunit bakeries, which bake on the premises, were not included in the 1948 Business Census. In the 1939 census the classification "Bakeries" included all bakery products stores not baking on the premises, and, in addition, those bakery products stores with baking on the premises, for which 1939 sales were less than $5,000.

Caterers, included with bakeries in the 1939 census, are now classified separately, and are included in the major group "Eating and Drinking Places."

Egg, poultry dealers

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling eggs and poultry. These stores may sell live poultry, slaughter and clean poultry for their own account and sell dressed fowl, or sell fowl dressed and cleaned by others.

Delicatessen stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling cooked foods such as cooked meats, prepared salads, and baked beans, ready for consumption in the home without further preparation. They often carry canned and bottled goods, groceries, beer and wine, and tobacco products, and frequently serve meals.

Other food stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling specialized foods, such as coffee, tea, spices and health foods. This industry includes house-to-house coffee, tea distributors.

Eating and Drinking Places

This group includes retail establishments selling prepared foods and drinks for consumption on the premises, and also lunch counters and refreshment stands selling prepared foods and drinks for immediate consumption. Restaurants and lunch counters operated as leased departments within other retail businesses were treated as part of the establishment in which they were located. However, restaurants and lunch counters operated as leased departments or concessions in businesses other than retail, are included in this classification as eating and drinking places.

Restaurants, cafeterias

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling complete meals and having full table service facilities.

Caterers

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in the preparation of food, and serving of that food elsewhere.

Lunch counters, refreshment stands

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling limited lines of refreshments such as fruit juices, soft drinks, or short-order meals for immediate or on-premise consumption. They do not have full table service facilities. The classification also includes operators primarily engaged in selling soft drinks through coin-operated vending machines.

Drinking places

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling drinks such as beer, ale, wine, liquor, and other alcoholic beverages for consumption on the premises, and usually known as bars, beer gardens, cabarets, night clubs, saloons, tap rooms, and taverns. The sale of food frequently accounts for a substantial portion of the receipts of these establishments.

General Merchandise Group, General Stores

This group includes retail stores which sell a number of lines of merchandise such as dry goods, apparel and accessories, furniture and home furnishings, small wares, hardware, and food. The stores included in this group are known as department stores, variety stores, dry goods stores, general merchandise stores, general stores, etc. Mail-order houses in the general merchandise field are included, but not as a separate kind of business.

General stores

These are retail establishments usually located in rural communities and primarily engaged in selling a general line of merchandise of which the most important line is food, and the more important subsidiary lines are notions, apparel, farm supplies, and gasoline. These stores are usually known as country general stores.

Department stores

These are retail stores carrying a general line of apparel, such as suits, coats, dresses, and furnishings; home furnishings, such as furniture, floor coverings, curtains, draperies, linens, major household appliances, and housewares such as table and kitchen appliances, dishes, and utensils. These and other merchandise lines are normally arranged in separate sections or departments with the accounting on a departmentalized basis. The departments and functions are integrated under a single management. Establishments included in this classification must normally employ 25 or more persons.

In the 1939 Census of Business, the size basis for this classification was 1939 sales of $100,000 or more, instead of number of employees.

Dry goods, general merchandise stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling piece goods, or a combination of men's and women's apparel, dry goods, hardware, homewares or home furnishings, etc. Yarn and notion shops are included in this category. Stores selling commodities covered in the definition for Department Stores, but normally having less than 25 employees, are also included in this industry.

Variety stores

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling a variety of merchandise in the low and popular price ranges, such as stationery, gift items, women's accessories, toilet articles, light hardware, toys, housewares, confectionery, etc. These stores frequently are known as "5 and 10 cent" stores and "5 cents to a dollar" stores, although merchandise is usually sold outside these price ranges. Sales usually are made on a cash-and-carry basis with the open selling method of display and customer selection of merchandise.

Apparel Group

This group includes stores primarily engaged in selling clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment. Custom tailors carrying stocks of materials and furriers are included in this group.

Farm equipment dealers

These are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling farm tractors, reapers, mowers, plows, wagons, and related farm equipment. These establishments may sell a combination of the basic lines of hardware, such as tools, builders' hardware, housewares, cutlery and related lines.

Drug and Proprietary Stores

Drug stores

These are retail establishments engaged in selling prescription drugs only or in combination with such lines of merchandise as proprietary medicines, cosmetics, toiletries, tobacco, candy, liquor and novelty merchandise. Prescription sales are required. The stores are included in the classifications "Drug stores, with fountains" or "Drug stores, other," depending upon whether or not a fountain is operated.

Proprietary stores

These are retail establishments engaged in selling drugs and medicines in any combination with such lines as cosmetics, toiletries, tobacco, candy, liquor, and novelty merchandise. No prescription drugs are sold. The stores are included in the calssifications "Proprietary stores, with fountains" or "Proprietary stores, other," depending upon whether or not a fountain is operated.

Liquor Stores

Liquor stores are retail establishments primarily engaged in selling at retail, packaged alcoholic beverages such as ale, beer, wine, and whisky for consumption off the premises. Liquor stores operated by States, counties, and municipalities are included. Stores selling prepared drinks for consumption on the premises are classified as "Drinking places."

Second-Hand Stores

This group includes stores primarily engaged in selling used merchandise. The separate classifications in this group are: Furniture stores; Tire, battery, accessory dealers; Clothing, shoe stores; Book stores; Pawn shops; and Other second-hand stores. Pawn shops and Pawn brokers are included in the classification "Pawn shops" regardless of principal source of receipts. Many dealers classified in this group do repair work both in preparing their own merchandise for resale and upon customers' goods. Establishments deriving the major portion of their gross income from service and repair work are classified in the Service Trades. Used car dealers are classified in the Automotive Group.

Other Retail Stores

This group consists of establishments specializing in the merchandise indicated by the following classification titles.

Fuel dealers, except fuel oil

These are dealers primarily engaged in selling, at retail, coal, coal and wood, or a combination of the lines of coal, wood, bottled gas, fuel oil, and ice.

Fuel oil dealers

These are dealers primarily engaged in selling fuel oil at retail. Stores primarily engaged in selling fuel oil burners are classified as "Heating and plumbing equipment dealers," and dealers primarily engaged in installing and servicing fuel oil burners are not included in the 1948 Business Census.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS
WASHINGTON

CENSUS OF BUSINESS: 1948

Enumerator's Use Only

S. D. No.	E. D. No.	Line No.

INSTRUCTIONS.—Multiunit organizations engaged primarily in activities within the scope of the Census of Business should use Form BC–10 in reporting certain activities not covered on other Census of Business reports. For such organizations a separate Form BC–10 should be used for reporting activities of each administrative, district, executive, or general office, and for each warehouse having administrative and/or buying functions ("chain store warehouses"). The form also should be used in reporting activities of certain auxiliary units, such as buying offices, garages, receiving or shipping offices, and storage warehouses where such units have not been included on other Census of Business reports.

Units of your organization primarily engaged in activities outside the scope of the Census of Business, such as manufacturing, or in servicing such out-of-scope activities, should not be reported on this or other Census of Business reports.

The Census of Business covers operations for the full year 1948.
